Mount Sinai

Mount Sinai

Mount Sinai is the traditional site where Elohim revealed Himself to Moses and wrote the 10 commandments on two tablets of stone. At the base of this mountain Elohim called Israel (a people who had just been miraculously delivered from bondage in Egypt) to be a consecrated nation set apart to serve the LORD.

Greece: Corinth, Corinthian columns

Corinthian columns at Corinth in south-central Greece. The remains of the ancient city lie about 50 miles west of Athens, at the eastern end of the Gulf of Corinth. On mainland Greece, Corinth was the main center of worship of Aphrodite (Roman: Venus) goddess of ... love and beauty. On his second missionary journey the Apostle Paul spent 1½ years preaching the Gospel at Corinth.

Israel: Dead Sea, view from Masada

The Dead Sea (Salt Sea) as seen from Masada. The Dead Sea is a landlocked salt lake between Israel and Jordan. It is the lowest body of water on earth at 1,312 feet below sea level. Because of the high salt content, nothing lives in or around the sea. Sodom and Gomorrah lie submerged beneath the southern end of the sea.

Tel Aviv-Jaffa

Marinas and high-rises reflect the present day prosperity of Israel's Tel Aviv-Jaffa on the Mediterranean coast. Today it is Israel's major business and cultural center. Jaffa has a long history, but Tel Aviv is a comparatively new city founded in 1909. In Old Testament times, David and Solomon occupied Jaffa and used it as a port to receive timber from Lebanon.

Loaves and fish

Israel: Galilee, Sea of, the miracle of the loaves & fish

From only five loaves of bread and two fish Yahshuah fed 5,000 men plus women and children by the shore of the Sea of Galilee. They all ate till they were filled and afterward Yahshuah' disciples collected 12 baskets full of fragments. The Sea of Galilee (Tiberias) is a lake in northern Israel through which the Jordan River flows. Many episodes in the life of Messiahtook place on or around this historic lake.
